- For calculation of closing values 'Addition due to revaluation' (Column 4 of Block C) has not been considered.
- For calculating 'Gross Value of Plant & Machinery' (sl. no. 13) against "Volume I (Tables 1 & 2)" $C_{3,7}$ has been used in place of $C_{3,3} + C_{3,4} + C_{3,5} - C_{3,6}$ because of non-availability of information in the schedule.
- Similarly, for calculating 'Man-days employed, Total' (sl. no. B) against "Volume I (Table 3 & 4)", $E_{9,5}$ has been used in place of $\sum_{i=1, i \neq 3,5}^7 E_{i,5}$ because of non-availability of constituent items in the schedule.

Note on ISO 14000 SeriesISO 14000 family

ISO 14000 is a family of standards related to environmental management that exists to help organizations (a) minimize how their operations (processes, etc.) negatively affect the environment (i.e., cause adverse changes to air, water, or land); (b) comply with applicable laws, regulations, and other environmentally oriented requirements, and (c) continually improve in the above. The ISO 14000 family of standards provides practical tools for companies and organizations of all kinds looking to manage their environmental responsibilities.

The ISO 14000 family includes most notably the ISO 14001 standard, which represents the core set of standards used by organizations for designing and implementing an effective Environmental Management System (EMS).

ISO 14001:2015

ISO 14001:2015 specifies the requirements for an environmental management system that an organization can use to enhance its environmental performance. ISO 14001:2015 is intended for use by an organization seeking to manage its environmental responsibilities in a systematic manner that contributes to the environmental pillar of sustainability.

Consistent with the organization's environmental policy, the intended outcomes of an environmental management system include:

- enhancement of environmental performance;
- fulfilment of compliance obligations;
- achievement of environmental objectives.

ISO 14001:2015 is applicable to any organization, regardless of size, type and nature, and applies to the environmental aspects of its activities, products and services that the organization determines it can either control or influence considering a life cycle perspective. ISO 14001:2015 does not state specific environmental performance criteria.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) in ASI and Clarifications

1.Q. While updating the frame for a given year, in case a unit is found registered and exists in the CIF list, but for some reason, the unit is not appearing in the frame for the corresponding year, whether the unit should be included in the frame for that year as and when detected?

Ans. Yes, provided the unit is found registered and exists in the CIF list.

2.Q. In case a unit of supplementary frame belongs to the sample sector and is selected for the survey and is found, during the survey, to be the 'joint unit' with some units of census sector and combined balance sheet is prepared, what treatment should be given?

Ans. A separate return for the sample unit is to be filled in for that particular year by apportioning the figures from combined balance sheets. While updating the frame for the following year, the code for 'joint units' should be given for the sample unit so that from next year onwards the unit is covered as a 'joint unit' and no apportionment is required for it.

3.Q. If same factory with two different registrations are included in the frame and one gets selected, what treatment should be given?

Ans. Selected factory will be surveyed. In case the two factories with two different registrations are physically the same, then the other one will be proposed for deletion at the time of updation of frame.

4.Q. In case two sample units exist with same frame-industry-code, same name and address but with two different PSL Nos., of which one is selected, what should be done?

Ans. In such cases, the selected unit may be identified with the help of Registration Number available with the CIF list.

5.Q. In case two units, say, X and Y are recorded as joint unit in the frame as per the Directorate of Industrial Safety and Health (DISH)/CIF, and located in the two ROs of FOD but within the same state, should there be two separate ASI returns filled in for these two units as the entire information is not available within a RO?

Ans. No, it should be treated as a case of joint return so long as they are located within a state, and only a single ASI return is to be filled in for these two units taken all information together.

6.Q. Can a unit belonging to the Census Sector be the joint unit with a unit of Sample Sector, and if yes, can there be a joint consolidated return for them taken together?

Ans. In no case a unit belonging of Census Sector will be the joint unit with a unit of Sample Sector. If such a situation arises, information pertaining to the Sample Sector unit needs to be apportioned and separate return should be filled in for each of them.

7.Q Two Census units are not declared as 'Joint Return' during frame preparation and are selected for survey in the central sample and satisfy all the criteria for joint return. Can a single Joint return be prepared?

Ans. Since both the units are census units and satisfy all the criteria for joint return, a single Joint Return may be prepared.

8.Q. In case two balance sheets exist in a unit – one according to the Company Act and the other according to the Income Tax Act, then which one is to be considered for ASI purpose?

Ans. The balance sheet prepared according to the Company Act will be considered for ASI purpose.

9.Q. If one factory is situated in Jaipur and its headquarter is situated in Kolkata and the information of the unit of Jaipur is available with headquarter, then what should be done?

Ans. If the headquarter is situated outside the state where factory(s) are located, then the entire information in respect of the factory(s) is to be segregated and recorded in the return. The headquarter will be treated as a separate unit and the information for it, if exists in the CIF list and selected, will be collected separately. In no case, the information for headquarter located in other state will be apportioned among the individual units.

10.Q. In case the balance sheet of a unit is prepared for 18-month period, then how to record the same in ASI schedule for the accounting year?

Ans. The information should be apportioned for 12 month period and reported accordingly. From ASI 2010-2011, in order to maintain uniformity, such apportioning will be done by IS Wing, DQAD only.

11.Q. If a factory has land/buildings in other state, whether it should be recorded in Block C of the factory?

Ans. If no economic activity is carried out in the land and building located in the other state, then it should be recorded in Block C as it is owned by the factory. In case any economic activity is carried out, it will be treated as a separate production unit and will not be considered in the return for the factory under consideration.

12.Q. A factory registered with the CIF as a sugar manufacturing unit, is having a captive electricity generating plant. The value of excess electricity generated and sold is more than any other product/by-product manufactured by the factory. Should its reported industry (NIC) code be changed to that of electricity generation as per the maximum value of product criterion?

Ans. For the given reference year, if the electricity generated and sold is, incidentally, more than any other product/by-product manufactured by the factory, then the reported industry of the factory will not be changed to that of electricity factory. The value of electricity generated and sold by the unit should be recorded in Item 3, Block G, i.e., 'value of electricity generated and sold'. But, if the unit is registered as an electricity generating unit in the CIF but not in CEA, or the unit continues to generate and sale electricity over years, which is significantly more than any other product/by-product manufactured by the factory, then the reported industry of the factory will be changed to that of electricity factory and the value of electricity generated and sold by the unit will be recorded in Block J.

13.Q. For estimating the total fixed assets in the factory sector the ownership-approach (including the owner-like possession like long-term lease) is followed in ASI, i.e., all assets owned by the factory are to be considered. What should be the treatment for recording the fixed assets leased-in/rented-in in Block C?

Ans. In the case of an operational lease, the ownership lies with the lessor and hence such leased-in fixed assets are not to be considered in Block C. However, in the case of a financial lease, the ownership lies with lessee and in such case, the same is to be recorded in Block C.

Operating leasing is a productive activity that involves renting fixed assets for terms less than the expected service lives of the assets. It is a form of production in which the lessor provides a service to the lessee in exchange for the lease payments.

Financial leasing is an arrangement for financing acquisitions of fixed assets. It is a contract between a lessor and a lessee whereby the lessor owns a fixed asset and puts it at the disposal of the lessee, and the lessee contracts to pay rentals that permit the lessor to recover all or almost all of its costs, including interest.

14.Q. If a fixed asset is completely rented out for the entire accounting year, should it be considered in Block-C?

Ans. All fixed assets owned by the factory, irrespective of whether it has been completely rented out or not for the part of/entire accounting year, is to be accounted in Block C. The rent received for it, however, should be taken in Block G.

15.Q. What should be the treatment of leasehold land – should it be recorded in Block C or in Block F?

Ans. The long-term lease hold land (perpetual lease), like owned land, should be included and the value of lease amount should be recorded in Block C. On the other hand, the short-term lease hold land will not be considered in Block C, and only the rent, if paid during the reference period, should be recorded in Block F.

16.Q. Will the depreciation be considered for lease-in land?

Ans. Land is not subject to depreciation. It may only be subject to depletion such as mines and timber land. Long term lease hold land for a period of 30 years or more is treated as, for all practical purposes, owned land because of its owner like possession. Therefore, the leased amount for long term lease hold land, whether partly or fully paid during the accounting year or not, is to be considered and shown as the value of land in Block C.

17.Q. What should be the treatment of residential flat or building in case of a partnership or proprietary concerns?

Ans. In case of partnership or proprietary concerns, residential flat or building meant exclusively for residence of owner/proprietor who is not an employee of the factory, will not be considered as a business asset and hence the same should be excluded from ASI. However, if the owner/proprietor is an employee of the factory, or the same residential flat or building is also used for production purpose or for the residential/welfare purposes of other employees of the factory too, it is to be recorded against 'buildings' in Block C.

18.Q. In most cases, the electric installation charges paid includes the charges for the electrical fittings that are of a longer life of more than 1 year. What treatment should be given?

Ans. The value of electrical fittings of more than one year life should be apportioned and recorded against 'other fixed assets' in Block C, and remaining part of the values should be recorded in Block F.

19.Q. Where Fire Extinguisher Vehicle should be recorded in Block C?

Ans. Fire Extinguisher Vehicle should be recorded against 'other fixed assets' in Block C and not under 'transport equipment'.

20.Q. If a company calculates depreciation as per Company Act and also, calculates as per Income Tax Act for submitting Tax-return, which figure is to be taken for ASI purpose.

Ans. Depreciation calculated as per the provision of Company Act is to be considered for ASI purpose.

21.Q. If depreciation is not shown by the units, whether to charge depreciation or not?

Ans. Yes. In case the factory is following a system of calculating the depreciation, but for certain reasons the provision has not been made for a period of time, the estimated value of depreciation for the accounting year is to be made as per the method followed by the factory. On the other hand, if depreciation figures for preceding year(s) are reported along with the depreciation provided during the year, depreciation provided during the year should be apportioned and same may be reported in Column 9 of Block C. If there is no system of calculating the depreciation by the factory and the depreciation has not been allowed for items of fixed assets, the same may be estimated by using the Straight Line Method as discussed in para 3.4.12 (page-30). The value of a fixed asset that has completed its theoretical life should be recorded as Re.1/- .

22.Q. A windmill, not separately registered with CIF and situated at a different place (say, in a village in or outside the state), generates and sells electricity to the State Electricity Board (SEB) or other units. The factory, which owns this windmill, gets electricity from SEB or from the other units against the sale value of electricity. In such a case, can the windmill be treated as a fixed asset of the factory? How the electricity sold will be accounted in the schedule?

Ans. If the windmill is not registered with CIF as well as Central Electricity Authority (CEA), then it should be treated as the captive plant and integral part of the factory and will be recorded in Block C. The sale value of electricity will be recorded against Item 3 of Block G (i.e., value of electricity generated and sold).

23.Q. What is the Amortization?

Ans. Amortization refers to spreading out of capital expenses for intangible assets over a specific period of time for accounting and tax purpose. In other word, it is the depreciation applied to intangible assets.

24.Q. What should be the treatment given to the current asset if the same is clubbed with previous year.

Ans. In the cases where current asset is clubbed with previous year, the same needs to be segregated after thorough probing, and the actual current asset obtained only for the reference year is to be recorded.

25.Q. In the case of partially completed 'job work' done by the unit for which labour cost has been incurred is sometimes shown as 'semi-finished good' in balance sheet. Should the labour cost for partially completed 'job work' done by the unit be treated as semi-finished goods and recorded against that item?

Ans. If the expenditure is actually incurred (paid), then it should be taken in Block F. If it is payable (not yet paid) it should be taken in Block D as 'other current liability'. In no case it should be recorded as 'semi-finished goods'.

26.Q. Where should the stock of 'trading goods' be recorded?

Ans. Stock of 'trading goods' should be recorded against the item 'raw materials & components and packing materials', in Block D.

27.Q. Where should the raw material in transit be recorded – in Item 1 of Block D or in Item 10 (other current assets) of Block D?

Ans. In case the payment has been made, it should be recorded in Item 1 of Block D, i.e., against 'raw materials & components and packing materials'. But if the payment has not been made, then it should not be considered at all.

28.Q. A negative entry is found in Current Asset figures from the balance sheet. What will be the treatment?

Ans. The entries for current assets cannot be negative. Therefore, the amount shown with negative value in current asset must be ascertained and if confirmed, it may be entered as positive value against 'other current liability'.

29.Q. In the balance sheet of some of the units, the doubtful debts are generally subtracted from the 'current assets', whereas, as per ASI instructions, it should come under 'current asset' and only written off bad debt will not be considered. Whether doubtful debts are to be considered in 'current asset'?

Ans. All debts, unless they are written off as bad debt, will be considered in 'current asset'.

30.Q. What should be the treatment of Fixed Deposit in ASI – should it be treated as current asset or should it be excluded from ASI?

Ans. Fixed deposit of any nature will be included under current assets in Block D, irrespective of their tenure.

31.Q. Will the debenture be considered as Outstanding Loan?

Ans. Both, convertible and non-convertible will be considered as outstanding loan.

32.Q. In Balance sheet of the factory, sometimes the short-term and long-term loans are clubbed together. What treatment should be given in such cases?

Ans. While the short-term (with tenure of less than a year) loan is within the purview of working capital, long-term loan is, on the other hand, kept outside the purview of working capital in Block D. Therefore, utmost care should be taken to bifurcate the short-term and long-term loans and report accordingly. However, an item (Item 17: outstanding loans) has been kept in Block D to record all long-term loans separately.

33.Q. In some cases, the 'mandays' worked for certain level of employees (e.g., Managing Director, etc.) are not available directly. What should be done in such cases?

Ans. If the information is not directly available, probing should be made and the leave record of the employee may be taken into consideration for indirectly deriving the figures. In case no record is available, working days may be considered for assessing the 'mandays' worked.

34.Q. If a salesman employed by a unit is stationed in a different place, but getting the salary from the unit producing the medicines. Whether he should be considered as 'other employees' in Block E, or as per the usual practice followed in the balance sheet of many units, his salary should be treated as distributive expense and recorded in Block J?

Ans. He should be considered as 'other employees' in Block E, even if he is stationed in a different place, and his salary should be recorded against 'wages/salaries' under Column 8, Block E.

35.Q. If the contractual worker that existed during the reference period (accounting period), is not found at the point of survey, then how to get the figure of number of contractual worker?

Ans. Labour register and other documents maintained for the accounting period may be consulted and if necessary, probing is to be made in detail to get the exact number of workers for obtaining the information.
